

ALL-PURPOSE CHURCH IS TIGERT'S PLAN

New North Side Edifice Will Be Made Useful Seven Days in the Week.

Plans for the Tigert Memorial church to be erected at the corner of Madison and Denver, will make more than a local institution. It will probably be the most complete, modern and complete church and community center in the southwest. In addition to the purpose which a church is ordinarily dedicated, it is a community center, where the membership of the north side may find a home and for any public cause, a welcome. Its facilities will be arranged that anything from a moral, religious, social or a civic meeting may be held under its management. Not that the church is going into the moving picture house, in competition with the established movie houses, but part of the equipment is to be a modern projection room, where films of appropriate religious and educational character may be shown.

The officials have planned a church which more than the religious idea, is a social institution. The church on the north side have long felt the need of some community center, where public gatherings may be held. They have hoped to erect a church to the city some such facilities as the Y. M. C. A. offered to the people of this city. It is planned to make this a distinctive feature. In other words, Tigert Memorial is to be a "seven day in the week" institution.

The basement of the church is to be utilized to the fullest extent. A kitchen, with necessary equipment is planned. Here the skill of the north side cooks will have every thing provided for the festive chicken dinner, a national institution.

A serving room with tables and chairs, additions to the kitchen and serving room will be 44 by 100 feet, large enough for any social occasion the church or the northsiders care to plan.

Because of the character of the church and the plans made to make it more than a mere denominational place to worship, the spirit of community pride has been spurred among the citizens, and regardless of creed or faith, the citizenship has backed the project. It becomes a civic matter. With the hearty co-operation of so many who are concerned from that viewpoint, those in charge of the preliminary work of building it predict the funds will be quickly raised.

DEATH LIST IN STORM NOW 82

The rain made the Texas roads impassable and the only means of reaching the stricken hamlets was by railroad.

Shaw E. Ray, postmaster at Winnsboro, was authority for the statement of 15 deaths in that community. Soon after he succeeded in establishing telephone connection with Winnsboro and asked that help be sent them.

Six miles east of there, he said, 17 houses had been blown away and four persons killed.

The German emperor for bringing on the war, but division occurred on whether it was feasible to bring him to justice before an international tribunal.

The French and British now favored a tribunal, but the American view favored moral indignation with out recourse to prosecution, looking to the lack of an international law as a basis for that before an international court.

Belgium, on which the war was first and heaviest, is reported to have taken a view much similar to that of the United States, while Japan and Italy were particularly in accord in the American view.

It was owing to these divergent viewpoints that the council decided a new plan, whereby one of the allied nations, probably Belgium, would prosecute Germany against the emperor and others responsible for the breach of treaties the occasion of the war. The emperor, however, would not be tried before an international tribunal, but before a court of law.
